What are the steps to change my name AND sex/gender marker in Travis County, Texas?

These instructions are to change your sex/gender identifier and name on Texas state records only. If you want to just change your sex/gender identifier (and not your name), there are separate instructions and forms for that. Note: These forms are intended for use in Travis County, Texas.

The Final Order to Change the Name and Sex/Gender Identifier of an Adult is an order to change your legal name and a judicial finding of your sex/gender. It gives notice to agencies and departments within the court's jurisdiction of the change of name and sex/gender identification. It does not take away any legal rights or responsibilities or debts you had under your original name. It does not grant any new rights. Changing your name and identifier will NOT allow you to escape civil or criminal responsibility of your creditors. You will still be held responsible for any debts you have under your original name.

Step 1. Fill out two forms.

Petition to Change the Name and Sex/Gender Identifier of an Adult. This form asks the judge to order agencies to change your name and sex/gender identifier on official documents. - and-

Final Order to Change the Name and Sex /Gender Identifier of an Adult. The judge signs this form to order the agencies to change your name identifier on official documents.

Note: When filling out both the Petition and the Order, use your current name and sex/gender as they appear now on your birth certificate or your social security card.

Where do I get the forms?

You can print forms from the Law Library's website at www.TravisCountyLawLibrary.org.

If you cannot afford to pay a filing fee, you can ask to waive it by filing a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form. This form is also on the website.

Step 2. Gather the additional paperwork.

You will need a letter from a medical doctor. The letter should say that:

- The doctor has examined you,
- You have received appropriate clinical treatment for transitioning, and
- Granting a change of gender/sex marker is in your best interest.

Alternatively, you can use the same medical certification letter used to change your passport. <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/passports/apply-renew-passport/change-of-sex-marker.html>

You may also need this paperwork:

- A Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form (if you want to ask that filing fees be waived)
- A copy of your criminal history report (if you were convicted of a felony and are asking to change your name to the primary name used in your criminal history record)
- A copy of your certificate of discharge (if you were convicted of a felony and served time in prison)
- A copy of your discharge from felony probation (if you successfully completed probation)
- A copy of your Sex Offender Update Form (if you are required to register as a sex offender)

Do you want your forms reviewed by an attorney?

- You can hire a private attorney. There are attorneys in Austin who specialize in LGBT+ legal matters.
- A Law Library Reference Attorney can review your forms if you email them to referencematerial@traviscountytexas.gov.
- The University of Texas Law School holds a legal clinic each semester. The clinic volunteers will help you fill out the paperwork. <https://law.utexas.edu/probono/projects/special-projects/trans-legal-name-gender-marker-project/>.

Step 3. Get your fingerprints taken.

Have your fingerprints taken. You will need the fingerprint card to file with your Petition.

Where do I get my fingerprints taken?

Check with local law enforcement to learn where you can have your fingerprints taken. There is a fee, usually $10 to $20. In Travis County, you can have your fingerprints taken at Passport Express at 1107 Rio Grande, Austin, Texas 78701.

Step 4. File your Petition by mail.

You can file the Petition in the District Clerk's Office by mailing to Travis County District Clerk
P.O. Box 679003
Austin, TX 78767-9003

You should also include these documents with your Petition:

- The Final Order to Change the Name and Gender/Sex Identifier of an Adult completely filled out
- The fingerprint card.
- The letter from your medical doctor.
- A Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form (if you want to ask that filing fees be waived) OR a check or money order made for $297 made out to the Travis County District Clerk
- Exhibit: A copy of your certificate of discharge (if you were convicted of a felony)
- Exhibit: A copy of your criminal history record (If you were convicted of a felony and are asking to change your name to the primary name used in your criminal history record)
- Exhibit: A copy of your discharge from felony probation (if you successfully completed probation)
- Exhibit: A copy of your Sex Offender Update Form (if you are required to register as a sex offender).

Note: You can file your Petition online at www.eFileTexas.gov.

If you file online:

1. Make sure you scan and upload your fingerprint card, the doctor letter, the exhibits (if applicable) along with the Petition.
2. Fill out and upload your proposed Final Order to Change the Name and Sex/Gender Identifier of an Adult.
3. Include instructions in the 'Comments' section that you would like your paperwork forwarded to the court for consideration.

Bring the original documents with you when meet with the judge.

Step 5. Pay the Filing Fee.

You will pay a filing fee of $297 to the Travis County District Clerk by mailing a check or money order with your petition and supporting documents.

If paying the fee will create a financial hardship for you and your family, you may file a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form to ask the Court to waive court and filing fees.

Step 6. Wait for the Judge to sign your Final Order to Change the Name and Gender/Sex Identifier of an Adult

After you file your Petition and Final Order to Change the Name and Gender/Sex Identifier of an Adult, the District Clerk will forward your documents go to the Court Administrator's Office. The Court Administrators Office will give your documents to a Judge for review and signature.

You may get a follow-up call from the District Clerk's, the Court Administrator's offices, or the Judge. Be prepared to answer the judge's questions truthfully and briefly. Address the judge as "Your Honor."

If the judge signs the order, move on to the next step. If the judge does not sign the Order, your name and gender identifier will not change at that time. You may be able to return to court with additional evidence to continue your request.

Step 7. Get certified copies of the Order.

After the Judge signs the Final Order to Change the Name and Gender/Sex Identifier of an Adult the District Clerk's office will contact you for payment of your certified copies. You will need certified copies to prove that the Court ordered the identifier and name change. You may want to get at least 5 certified copies.

Step 8. Notify.

Notify agencies of your name and identifier change. You may be required to show them a certified copy of your court order. Agencies to notify include the:

- Social Security Administration
- Vital Statistics (birth certificates)
- Department of Public Safety (driver's license)
- Tax Office (vehicle and voter registration)
- County Clerk's Office (property titles)
- Passport Office

Questions: Gender Marker and Name Change

Q. Who can use these forms?

A: This form is intended for use by people who want to change their name and the sex on their public documents to match their gender identity.

If you want to change your gender marker only, and not your name, there are separate forms for that.

There are also separate forms if you want to just change your name.

Q. Can I change my name and gender/sex marker on public documents without going to court?

A: No. In Texas, you need a court order. Judges have discretion to either grant or deny your request.

Q: Is surgery or other medical treatment or procedure required before I can change my gender/sex marker?

A: No, surgery is not required by Texas law. What is required is a narrative statement from your medical doctor that says:

- The doctor has examined you.
- You have received appropriate treatment to transition.
- It is in your best interest (it is recommended) that your sex and/or gender marker be changed in public records to be consistent with your identity and presentation.

Alternative: You can use the same medical certification letter used to change your passport. The template for the letter is on the Department of State's website. See: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/passports/apply-renew-passport/change-of-sex-marker.html>

In exercising their discretion to grant sex/gender marker changes, judges often look to the Current Standards of Care (SOC) established by the World Professional Association for Transgender Health (WPATH). For more information on these standards see <https://www.wpath.org/publications/soc>

Q: Can I change my gender/sex marker to non-binary or some other identity that is neither male or female (M or F)?

A: No. Texas law does not recognize non-binary, third gender or gender fluid as an acceptable entry for sex or gender that is printed on state identification documents.

Q: Will my identity documents automatically be updated once the court enters an order?

A: No. Getting an order is just the first step of the process of correcting your name and/or gender marker on your ID documents. You will need to contact the issuing authority for each type of ID and present a certified copy of the court order when you ask for a change. You can get a certified copy of the order signed by the judge from the District Clerk's Office, room 302.

Although the order is a binding order of a Texas district court of general jurisdiction, it is not an absolute guarantee that state entities will immediately adjust your gender marker in accordance with the order.

Q: Will my child's name automatically change when I change my name?

A: No. Changing a child's name is a different process and requires different forms.

Q: Do I have to submit a set of my fingerprints with my petition?

A: Yes. You are required to submit a set of your fingerprints on a fingerprint card with your petition. The statute about fingerprints can be found at Texas Family Code, Section 45.102(a)6.

If you file your Petition online, you must scan and upload your fingerprint card. Make sure you bring the card with you when you meet the judge.

Q: I was convicted of a crime; can I still change my name?

A: All offenses charged above a Class C misdemeanor must be listed in the Petition. (An offense charge does not disqualify from changing your name.) Include the case number and court of each offense.

There are special requirements if you were convicted of a felony or of a sex offense. (See Texas Family Code 45.103.)

For felonies:

- If you served time in prison for a felony, you must wait two years from the date listed on your certificate of discharge. Get a copy of your certificate of discharge from the Classification and Records division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Attach it to your petition.
- If you were on felony probation, you must wait two years from the date you successfully completed probation. Get a copy of your certificate of successful completion of probation from the District Clerk of the county where you were prosecuted and attach it to your petition.

A registered sex offender must first notify the local law enforcement office of the proposed name change. Attach a copy of the written notification to law enforcement to the Petition.

Q: I was convicted of a felony; how do I learn my SID (State Identification) or FBI number?

Contact the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to learn your SID or FBI number at 512-406-5202 or at 1-800-535-0283.

Q: Will the name on my birth certificate, driver's license, and social security card change?

You are responsible for notifying the appropriate agencies of your new name. Social Security, Department of Public Safety (driver's license) and Vital Statistics Unit (birth certificate) will require you to show a certified copy of your court order.

Q: Where can I read the name change laws?

The Texas laws about name changes are in the Texas Family Code, sections 45.101 to 45.106.
